INLAND WATERWAYS REPRESENTATIVES RETURN HOME

Fresno Had Limited Representation at the Convention

Water Problems Association to Meet in Visalia February 22

Several members of the Fresno delegation attending the Inland Waterways convention being held at Stockton returned home last night and declared that the conference had brought about a deeper and better understanding between the several districts in the state interested in the water problems. However, they declared that Fresno and Stockton fell short because of the limited representation present.

Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento had extra large representation at the convention and controlled most of the discussion, which led to harbor and navigation problems rather than to irrigation and storage system discussion. Los Angeles was accorded a warm welcome at the convention and was given especial recognition on the executive board which will have practically full control of the affairs of the league.

Among those present at the convention from Fresno are: W. W. Phillips, Chester H. Howell, who presided in the absence of President Wheeler, John Fairweather, E. M. Hill, Bart Harvey, and Mrs. S. L. Wiley, who stopped over at the convention yesterday on a trip from the coast cities.

The San Joaquin Water Problems Association met Thursday evening and elected John Fairweather president, and A. L. Covell of San Francisco, secretary. Some changes were made in the officials elected in other departments. The next meeting of the association will be in Visalia on February 22, 1915.

Members of the Fresno delegation said that the failure of Stockton to take a larger part in the Inland Waterways convention seemed to be due to the unpathy in business there generally, caused by the unfortunate business war now being waged. The business men of the city are feeling keenly the consequences of the trouble between the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association and organized labor, and the ordinary optimism of business is nowhere to be found.

While the delegation from Fresno was regrettably small, the members from here took a very active part in the proceedings, especial interest being taken in the papers by John Fairweather of Fresno, and V. S. McClatchy of Sacramento, taking opposite positions on the Newlands reclamation bill.

BIG "DRY" MEETING IS HELD IN TULARE

(Special to the Republican)
TULARE, Sept. 25.—A stirring meeting in the interest of the California Dry Federation movement was held this evening in Tulare Park, the meeting being a climax to the afternoon gathering addressed in the Women's Club building by Governor Hiram Johnson. The speaker of the evening was Rev. William Matthews Holderby, lecturer for the National Reform Association. The subject of his address was, "Reasons Why California is Going Dry."
The speaker emphasized very strongly the recent victory of the drys in Virginia which last Tuesday gave a majority of more than thirty-five thousand for state-wide prohibition as probable sign of victory for California drys.
A feature of the evening was a street parade of the organization of young campaigners directed by Mrs. J. H. Fraw. A drum corps led the procession of children and young people, who marched through the downtown streets singing campaign songs and displaying banners. At the park a further program of songs and recitation was given. The itinerary of the Rev. Mr. Holderby takes him into Merced county for next week. He will address a large mass meeting in Court House Park, Fresno, Saturday night.

MRS. GOULD HAS GUIDE ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Charging that Harry Lewis, a guide in San Francisco's Chinatown, has slandered her, Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, former wife of Howard Gould of New York, swore to a warrant for his arrest here today.

Mrs. Gould, who in 1900 obtained a decree of separation from her millionaire husband, with alimony and no relinquishment of dower rights, is now in San Francisco as is also her sister, Mrs. Wong Sun Yee, formerly Miss Ella May Clemmons, who is married to a Chinese merchant here.

According to Mrs. Gould's complaint, Lewis is exploiting the marriage of her sister to a Chinese with a set of moving pictures and by the contents of a circular which she swore is "criminally libelous," insofar as it pertains to her.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS CONSIDER RECENT EUROPEAN CONDITIONS

For the book reader interested in the conditions of the countries of Europe previous to the war and the various influences that have been pronounced in bringing about the present great European war, a new consignment of books, now ready for the purchase of the public library, will prove a veritable gold mine. Most of the books deal with the French and the English people but practically every country in Europe is given consideration in one or more of the volumes.

"Trade of the World." Whelpley in his "Trade of the World" has given a first-hand readable study showing keen insight into commercial policies and possibilities of the great nations, considered separately, but especially in their relation to the United States. He does not concern the reader so much with statistics as with the psychology of trade relations and trade strategy.

"The French and the English." The Paris correspondent of a London newspaper, Laurence Jerrard, in a series of brilliant essays, contrasts the two nations in a book entitled, "The French and the English." He compares them as to temperament, social life, politics and morals, the press, literature and the two metropolises. There has been, perhaps, too much effort to write telling phrases, but on the whole, they show a discernment, are interestingly written and will do much to destroy baseless generalizations that are common to each chapter is stimulating and valuable.

"Athens the Violet Crowned." by Lillian Whitney, will be appreciated by the lovers of scenic, artistic and cultural writings. The writer describes conditions depicted against a background of history, in a pleasant and informing manner. Among other things of interest and value are the accounts of the work of Dr. Schliemann and the archaeological school of Athens, a sketch of contemporary literature and an intelligent treatment of the Eleusinian mysteries.

"Cavour and the Making of Modern Italy." A good brief account of the struggle for Italian liberty written around the career of Cavour is given in Piero Orioli's "Cavour and the Making of Modern Italy." It is not strictly an autobiography despite the liberal attention given to Cavour. Prof. Orioli avoids the disparaging tone toward Garibaldi which crept into Mr. Thayer's notable biography.

CAUGHT ON WAY ACROSS BORDER

Japanese Embezzlers Arrested at Tucson and Returned Here

Charged with embezzling, two Japanese—T. Takido and T. Fukawasa—were returned yesterday from Tucson, Arizona, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Horace Thorsen, and were lodged in the county jail.

The Nipponese were alleged to have been very successful in high finance, and obtained sums that amount to $4,000 from various individuals. In most cases, the money obtained was intended for their fellow countrymen, who were employed in vineyards about Fresno. Upon learning that they had been returned, several Japanese endeavored to see them and obtain their wages.

G. H. Muller, one of the persons signing complaints, is enthusiastic over the expeditious work in apprehending the men. The sheriff's office was notified of the alleged embezzlement at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of September 13. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, the authorities in Tucson boarded the train at that station and took the men in custody.

Both had tickets to Mexico.

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO OUT-WIT REPUBLICANS

Church Will Speak in Fresno October 30, Instead of October 31.

"October 31" has caused considerable misunderstanding between local Democrats and Republicans. It is claimed by most of the political leaders that according to custom in this district the congressman in office is supposed to address the electorate on Saturday night preceding the election and on that score the Democrats claim that Denver S. Church should have preceded the general election, but the Republicans "put one over" and have managed to address a clean get away with it, according to Russell Uhler.

"We have decided to let the Republicans bring Fredericks here on October 31," said Uhler yesterday. "We are not going to assert our rights any further, but we are going to hold a big rally for Denver S. Church on Friday evening, October 30, at the Auditorium. On Saturday night, October 31, we will hold a big rally at Selma and will run a special train from Fresno, to take care of all the people who wish to attend."

HILL INDORSES WORK PLANNED BY LEAGUE

Says Newland-Broussard Bill Meets Approval of Delegates

Heartily endorsing the principles of co-operation being followed by the delegates to the Inland Waterways convention now in session at Stockton, F. M. Hill, manager of the Fresno Traffic association, returned home yesterday after spending two days at the conference. He declares that the league will probably give almost unanimous endorsement to the Newland-Broussard bill, which is to come up before the National legislature for consideration in the near future, before the convention is adjourned, as very little opposition is offered.

The proposed bill, according to Hill, provides that the National government may appropriate funds to aid states in irrigation, reclamation, navigation, flood control, storage systems and other necessary developments that have to do with the handling of water for the development of India.

"The state is sure to profit by this spirit of co-operation," said Hill. "About seventy-five delegates are present at the convention, which gives practically every community in the state a representation. It means that development may be asked for by

SORE ERUPTION ALL OVER CHILD'S BODY

Started with Blisters. Itched So Could Not Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Three Weeks Was All Healed.

Route No. 3, Box 67, Little Falls, Minn.

"Our little boy was taken sick with a fever and after the fever he broke out with a sore eruption all over his body. We could get nothing to help him. The sores were large and red and bleeding. They started with blisters as if he were burned and when they broke they would bleed and he would not sleep for some time. We had him all tied up with bandages and then we had to rock him off every day."

"We bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment which soon gave him relief. We used the Cuticura Soap to wash him with and used the Ointment afterwards and in about two weeks he was able to sit up. Now he is as well as can be for in three weeks he was all healed by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) George Wolters, Jan. 26, 1914.

Samples Free by Mail

NEWSPAPER DAY.

The Fresno Republican will, on next Thursday morning, October 1, cooperate with other newspapers of the state in the issue of a newspaper edition. This will not be, and is not intended to be, a pretentious "special" edition, such as this and other papers get out on notable occasions, but will be the regular edition of the Republican for Thursday morning, with a few pages added to carry out the ideas of the originators of the day, among whom were Mr. William Robertson, secretary of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, and Judge Thomas J. Hayes of San Diego. The San Diego Union last year got out a newspaper edition. This year many others are joining in the movement, the Fresno Republican being one of them.

It is the intention of the Newspaper Edition to serve in a compact way as a guide to the San Joaquin valley for the thousands of people in the eastern states who will visit California next year to see the exhibitions at San Francisco and San Diego. Little of statistical matter will be employed, but suggestions will be embodied for pleasure seekers, investors and intending settlers, so that they may more readily make use of the facilities of the various valley, county and business organizations for a satisfactory trip through this portion of the state. It is intended especially for the use of residents of Central California to send to their friends elsewhere, giving them something longer than would be possible in a letter, and yet readable and without the abundance of detail that is necessary for a special edition or a chamber of commerce pamphlet.

The Fresno Republican cheerfully contributes this newspaper edition and will be glad to cooperate in the forwarding of copies throughout the East, so that Fresno and the San Joaquin valley may get their share of the incidental advertising that will come to the interior of California through the opening of the Panama canal.

FAIR IN PROSPECT.

The completion of the preparations for the Fresno District Fair, to be opened next week, is an illustration of the transformation not only in the notions that we have had of fairs, but of the actual growth of the exposition features of our community life. For years, fairs in California have languished. For one thing, they have been too much an imported idea. People have attempted to carry out to the letter the notion of fairs that they had brought with them from the agricultural communities of the Eastern states. These ideas did not fit, especially in the sparsely settled communities of interior California. So it was thought that the end of the days of the county or district fair was at hand.

To build up a fair such as Fresno will present for the entertainment of the people of Central California next week has required careful, intelligent and persistent work by a number of public spirited men, not only this year, but for several preceding years. One such year of effort could not have produced this fair. But with the completion of the work, it is seen that the result is not artificial, but it is the result of the real demand of the people for such an institution.

While apparently the amusement feature of the fair has been given the most thought, this is after all only a superficial impression. Neither amusement nor instruction alone, nor the spirit of competition added to these, could make a fair. It takes all three. A mere amusement carnival would be a disappointment. A simple array of exhibits placed in competition for prizes would be of little value to the community. A display of articles of practical value for instruction would, if attempted on a large scale, be a failure. But the three combined produce an organization that Fresno can never afford to do without. We can be assured that no matter how successful the fair this year, next year's will be better still.

"SAFETY FIRST."

The incident in Los Angeles where, under the presidency of the State Industrial Accident commission representatives of employers and organized labor met together to consider the "Safety First" precautions necessary for the proper conduct of industries is a good omen for the solution of the irritations such as have given rise to the present industrial war in Stockholm. In the consideration of common interests, both contributors to the public good, the workmen and the employers, may cease to spend their time in quarreling about which one has caused more trouble in the past, by joining together to correct present and future problems. There is room enough for the activities of both in doing the work that is to be done. Industry cannot afford to have managers, workmen and capitalist at odds. They are all needed now, and they must all get justice and concede justice.

We are to have a Safety First conference here in Fresno on September 30. Let the occasion be one to demonstrate the industrial unity of this part of the state.

WANT A BOSS.

While Francisco Villa is reported to be seeking to be President of Mexico, it is very doubtful whether under the conditions now existing in that state it will be possible for any other man to be President and be anything but a dummy of Villa. In which case, Villa might as well be king as king-maker.

At best, the course of the United States will have to be one of enduring a political condition which it cannot alter and refusing to be a party to further disorder, even passively. If the trouble between Villa and Carranza is hatched up, Villa will be left with as much military and moral influence as he has now, ready again to proclaim a revolution if he does not like something that is done in Mexico.

If Villa succeeds in displacing Carranza, and thereon sets up another as head of the state, the new man will very likely soon feel the importance of his position and refuse to obey orders from Chihuahua.

If Villa is the kind of man that the Mexicans want, it will be the best thing for the country if this is found out as soon as possible, or for another Villa to arise to dispossess this man and establish a new Diaz dictatorship. There is a wild claim below that needs a despot above to rule them. The curbing of the real economic and political defects in Mexican society will take generations of turmoil and revolution and despotism.

COMPLAIN FURTHER OF GERMAN ATROCITIES

French Ambassador Files Ten Documents in Washington

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The French ambassador, Jules J. Jusserand, made public today the summary of ten documents drawn up by various officials accusing the German soldiers of a systematic campaign of atrocities. The documents, which were placed in the hands of Acting Secretary Lansing of the State Department, by the ambassador, were also delivered to all signatories of The Hague convention.

With the documents a letter was delivered which explained that the French government did not take the step with a view of demanding any action on the part of the United States, but merely to report to this country merely as a signatory of The Hague treaty, evidence of how the treaty was being carried out.

The statement, made public by the French ambassador is as follows: "By the order of the government of the French republic, a series of official reports as to the way in which the present war is being carried on in the French territory by German troops have been communicated to the powers who signed The Hague convention, the United States being one of them.

"These documents, ten in number, show that the destructions and massacres which have taken place have been systematic and performed in accordance with orders from the officers and not as the result of an accidental lack of discipline.

"The facts quoted are given only as samples and not as complete enumerations; they cover, moreover, only the first three weeks after the beginning of hostilities (two weeks of actual warfare) and worse deeds have been committed since.

"Such as they are, they show, among other things, that wounded soldiers have been finished in the trenches by shot fired right against the face of the wounded; that Pont-à-Mousson, an open and undefended town, was bombarded; the hospital, which is an historical building, having especially suffered; a number of villages, among them Forbach and Attelville, have been methodically destroyed, house by house, soldiers being, as it seems, provided with implements enabling them to perform that kind of work with a minimum of trouble; nurses bearing conspicuously the Red Cross have been assassinated; numerous inhabitants have been put to death without pretext or provocation (among whom, at Raddomville, the wife of the mayor); in some cases, notably atilly on the tenth of August, the German troops, after they had marched out of the place to charge the French troops, made the women and children walk in front of them.

"Attention is called as regards such deeds, to two texts: Article III of the convention of The Hague, which was signed by the German delegates themselves, states that the belligerents who might cause such destructions as those mentioned above, could be bound to indemnify the interested parties, and would be responsible for any acts committed by members of his army.

"The second phase, even if civilians had taken up arms on the invasion of French territory by the Germans, which was nowhere the case, they would have been within their rights and the killing of them would have been a necessary defense of Article IV of the same convention reserves to the population of a non-occupied territory, the right on the approach of the enemy, to spontaneously take arms and repel the invading troops.

"Appended to this convention, besides the signature of the United States, France and many other countries is to be found that of Germany."

GERMANS LOSE NEW GUINEA TOWN

LONDON, Sept. 25, 2:22 p. m.—The official press bureau this afternoon issued the following statement: "The admiralty announces that a telegram has been received from Vice Admiral Sir George Pates, stating that the town and harbor of Frederick-Wilhelm, the seat of government of Kaiser Wilhelm's land (the name applied to the German portion of New Guinea), has been occupied by an Australian force without opposition."

BISHOP IS KILLED.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 25.—Bishop P. S. Spalding, head of the Episcopal church in Utah, was instantly killed here tonight when an automobile in which he was riding struck a curb and overturned. Bishop Spalding's skull was badly fractured and his neck broken. The car was driven by a young doctor of Judge William H. King, former congressman from this district.

EX-MAYOR TAYLOR S. F. DEMOCRAT IS FOR JOHNSON

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Edward Johnson Taylor, former mayor of San Francisco, dean of the Hastings Law College, and one of the leading Wilson Democrats of California, has issued a statement declaring his support of Governor Hiram W. Johnson for re-election, his belief that national issues have nothing to do with the state campaign, and his political devotion to Wilson and Johnson because they have "kept their promises to the people to the very letter."

Taylor was appointed mayor of San Francisco in 1907, to take over the reins of municipal government after the revocation of the graft prosecution and the removal of Mayor Schmitz. It was to him, San Francisco turned to assume the leadership in restoring clean government. In the fall he was re-elected and served until 1909.

"Democrat as I am, I am for Johnson up to the hilt, and the people of this state should see to it that they re-elect him," says Taylor.

His statement declares: "Governor Johnson should be re-elected. Not to re-elect him would be a proclamation to the world that we were prepared to go back to the condition of things which existed in this state at the time of his election. And indeed I have no doubt that Frederick, who will be elected if Johnson is not, will be quite ready to take the backward step. Not alone has Johnson's administration been along humanitarian lines, but it has been along business lines as well; and on both grounds the governor has won the right to public appreciation which can only be made manifest by his re-election.

"This campaign, we have nothing whatever to do with the tariff, or with any other national question. It is a campaign in which state politics are alone involved; and so far as they are concerned the sole question to consider is whether Johnson has no more to give to the state than he has given. That he has done so all dispassionate men and women must concede.

"There is a great similarity in President Wilson and Governor Johnson in this, that each, after election, kept his promises to the people to the very letter. This is no common feat of devotion to the former and it is why I am now supporting the latter. It is for these reasons that Democrat, as I am, I am for Johnson up to the hilt, and the people of this state should see to it that they re-elect him."

TRIAL OF PETER DE LA FONTAINE

A most picturesque character was Peter de la Fontaine, a young Frenchman of noble parentage, who served with distinction at the siege of Philadelphia, under the Duke of Beaurieu, a son of James II. When the campaign was over Fontaine went to Paris, where a gentleman invited him to spend some time at his country seat. Here he fell in love with the daughter of his host, and they eloped and lived for a time at Rouen.

Upon their return to Paris the young lady retired, as a lodger, into a convent, but the husband appearing in public, some officers seeing him in a coffee house, told him they had the King's warrant for apprehending him, in which was contained a list of names of whom they would take two of them with his sword, tried to make his escape, but was seized and lodged in prison.

On this Fontaine wrote to the young lady informing her that he was obliged to go into the country on urgent business, but would soon return. Being brought to trial for running away with an heiress, he would have been capitally convicted, agreeably to the then law of France, but the young lady voluntarily swore that she went off with him by her own consent. She thus obtained his acquittal.

Soon after this, De la Fontaine entered the army, and behaved with such bravery that he was commissioned a lieutenant of grenadiers. Then came to him the greatest romance of his life. A young lady of Strasbourg became enamored of him, and, concealing her passion, she joined his regiment, besides this circumstance Fontaine was compelled to fight a duel, in which he was seriously wounded. The young lady died of smallpox and the bereaved lover left France in a vessel bound for Martinique. The ship being taken by a privateer, was brought into Constantinople, where Fontaine was confined in a dungeon.

While thus confined he was visited by another prisoner, who had more liberty than himself, and, who advised him, as the French Consul then was absent, to make a direct appeal to the Grand Vizier, and to beg that ruler was so impressed with him that he not only released him, but gave him a bag of gold.

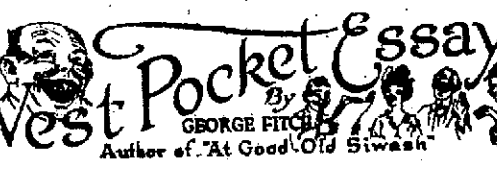

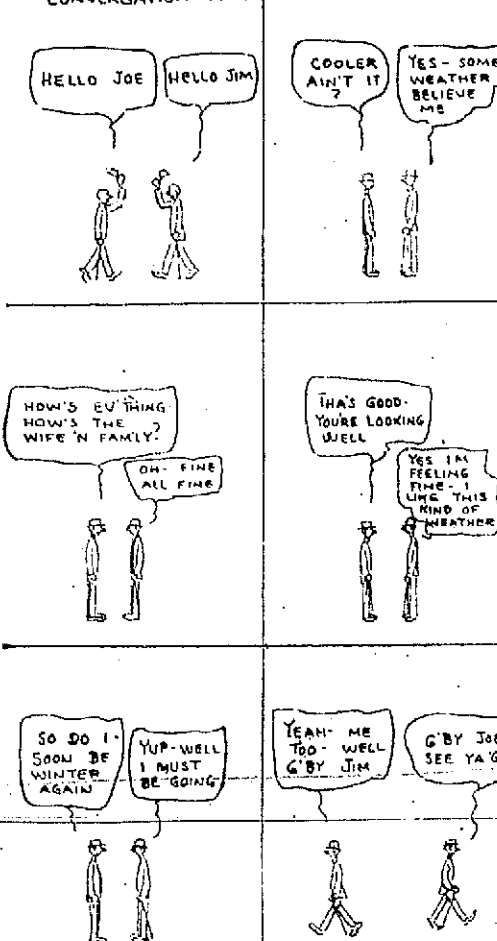

Peter departed from Constantinople for Surinam, where he passed the next five years, and where he met a widow who had been the lover of the girl who had been his enemy. If possible, to make it conquest. Other officers having addressed the same lady, Fontaine was occasionally involved in difficulties on her account. In an altercation with an officer he cut off his ear, and for this he was seized and tried by court-martial, but was acquitted and returned to Europe.

Having arrived in London he took up elegant lodgings and made a number of showy acquaintances. Among them was a Venetian, Vannier, by name, who had to quit his own country on account of a scandalous transaction. It was to him that Fontaine eventually was to attribute his downfall.

Zanier induced De la Fontaine to go to a tavern, where they met with a woman whom the latter had formerly known and a man who was

A Battle

A battle is a wholesome case of justifiable homicide. When one man kills another in a private quarrel he is hanged unless the crime occurred in this country, in which case he gets anywhere from a slap on the wrist to several years in prison. But when a man takes a rapid fire gun and shoots the vital upholstery out of a hundred husbands and fathers in a battle he is promoted and gets a medal.

This is because it is patriotic and gallant to fight in battles and will be until nations have as much sense as individuals. Man has been fighting battles ever since he was invented. But methods have changed a good deal. Five thousand years ago a warrior fitted a handle around a large stone and lashed it in the heads of his enemies. Later on the sword was invented and thousands of men backed away at each other on the battlefield from sun-up until supper time, striving the ground with arms, legs, ears and noses, which remained unscathed after hostilities had ceased. Those were the days when a broad-shouldered man, who could do a half-layoff or back-bone stroke with a twelve-pound sword heaved great holes in the enemies' ranks and became king, because nobody could object. The killing business was conducted strictly on its merits in those times, and when a king got out of practice with his cutting tools he went into a sarcophagus in short order.

When gunpowder was invented all this was changed because a thin little man, with no ancestry could shoot a hole in a perfectly good king with no effort at all. After this kings stayed in the background and made suggestions, while the common soldiers shot each other into messy remains with rifles, mortars, cannon bombs, torpedoes, revolvers and Gatling guns. Fifty years ago a battle was a grand sight and sound, but times have changed. A rifle now shoots two miles and a soldier lies all day in a ditch shooting into the invisible beyond, over a hill. At night a bookkeeper checks him and if there aren't enough soldiers alive to keep on firing a great victory has been won.

Battles are now fought over mines dressed in black. While De la Fontaine was conversing with the woman, the stranger (who afterwards appeared to be a Fleet Street person) read the marriage ceremony from a book which he held in his hand; and the next week De la Fontaine was apprehended on a charge of bigamy and committed for trial at the Old Bailey.

Zanier visited him in Newgate and proposed for a sum of money to procure his acquittal. De la Fontaine was asked to sign a parchment that he on the instant beat Zanier with such severity that the turnkey was obliged to interpose to prevent murder. In revenge of this Zanier laid an information on oath against De la Fontaine for forgery, in imitating the handwriting of a gentleman named Perry. In consequence of which he was brought to trial and capitally convicted, though a gentleman swore that the writing resembled that of Zanier, and there was much reason to believe the latter committed the forgery.

On the evidence adduced the jury was so enraged at the crime that they sentenced him to death, and the day was appointed for his execution. His innocence, however, was so loudly urged by himself and his friends that he was respited. This was from time to time, continued for five years, when he was pardoned on condition of transportation. His not being able to clearly show his total absence from guilt prevented the government from doing more for him. In September, 1752, with many other convicts, he was shipped to the English colony of Virginia in America.

LOVERS OF HORSE FLESH TO SEE
ARISTOCRATS OF THE STABLES

One of the Equine Aristocracy.

Rounded horses never lose their attraction and even the steady displacement of horses by automobiles can not dampen the enthusiasm of those who truly love horses.

The horse show at the Fresno District Fair, this year is bringing to this city some of the finest and most intelligent fancy riding and driving stock that has been seen in the valley.

Mrs. Leola L. Zapp is superintendent of the horse show, and has just returned from a visit to the state fair at Sacramento, where she interviewed many owners and breeders and secured their entries for the horse show here.
Besides these, there will be many from about Los Angeles, where more interest is taken in fancy driving and riding stock than in most places. San Francisco owners, too, are bringing their picks to Fresno.

TURBANS MUST BE
DOFFED BY HINDUS
BEFORE CITY JUDGE

Non-Compliance With Order Meets With a Forcible Removal

City Justice Graham established the rule yesterday that Hindus must doff their turbans in his courtroom, and he also compelled forcible compliance with the order by commanding Constable Drenth to remove the headgear of Karan Singh, who was in court as interpreter and who hesitated to comply with the request of the judge to bare his head.

The case in court was that of Sols
Singh and Merson Singh accused by Pur Singh of having relieved him of a $20 piece last Friday in the laundry at the Wahluke vineyard. There was such a lack of corroborating proof of the Hindus' confession with the declaration that Pur Singh was intoxicated on that evening that he had to be addressed to be placed in bed, that a requested dismissal resulted.

The courtroom was crowded with Hindus and spectators who all declined to comply with the request of Judge Graham to remove their turbans. The swartzy contingent protested that nowhere else is this rule enforced, and all pleaded scruples against showing their sides bareheaded. The judge gave them the alternative of complying or leaving the courtroom. Some complied while others left the courtroom.

Karan Singh, who had been summoned as interpreter in the case, remained obstinate and declaring that nowhere else in California in state or federal tribunal is the turban order enforced, declared he could not for conscientious reasons obey and further said he was prepared to go to jail as threatened by Judge Graham if he would not remove his headgear. It was thereupon that Constable Drenth was ordered to remove Karan's head dress and the bailiff did so with one swipe of his hand.

The Hindu retired much crestfallen, and thereafter declined to serve as interpreter, pretending he could not speak English well enough. He was finally permeated to act as interpreter. The resolution of the court in enforcing its order created a lively sensation among the attending Hindus.

Assistant District Attorney Beaman, who moved the dismissal of the charge on the testimony, says that in proportion to their small number in the county the Hindus show a more illigous spirit over small matters than any other race and keep the lower courts busy in the settlement of personal and financial disputes.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says About the Styles

The Two Fashions That Remain In tact Are the Transparency of Evening Gowns and Blouses.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The American buyers who were here for the openings—and they were few in number, because they were kept away from the city by lack of transportation—were disappointed in the fact that evening gowns remained much as they had been.

Callot made the only definite departure, and she has outlined this departure in one gown that she exhibited last spring. It was called "Elohim" then, and "Moyen-age" now, as the latter name is attached to everything that drops in a straight line from shoulder to hips.

Long, loose bodice. Again she shows the long-waisted bodice of transparent gauze, usually carrying colored flowers, and the tight inner skirt, and the broad belt at the hips. While this gown is especially attractive for young women, and even for women over thirty who have a slim girlish figure, it is not the type of evening gown that can be freely indulged in. It requires too much style to carry it off for the average woman to wear it. As a rule, it is not a gown that will meet with instant popularity except among the ultra smart set.

Other gowns shown at other houses continue to be vague and indefinite in outline with amazingly short skirts festooned with tulle, and blouses that are regular normal waistlines, cleavageless, and cut very low in the back.

Callot shows one gown that is so strikingly like the model for which Worth has always been famous; and one has an intuitive feeling that this is to be her next move in silhouette. It has a wrapped bodice and goes in a slightly bias line under the arms, has white tulle over the shoulders, and a simply draped skirt with a train. The whole makes a clean cut, long line of black.

It is quite unlike anything Callot has done for years and is a distinct departure from her method. It is probably a little more transparent above the bust than Worth allows, but everyone knows that Callot caters to the kind of women that like a sensational touch.

Moyen-Age Decolletage. Another difference between this gown and what Worth would make is in the absence of rhesonnet, that celebrated house never relinquishes this form of garment and is using it today.

Worth, by the way, like Daquin, made a showing in London during August, and has now opened the house here to catch whatever American trade is passing.

To sum up the situation in evening clothes: one can go on with the styles of last winter. Satin is again used, and a great deal of tulle, but the drapery is dropped to the knees and is no longer at the hips. There is a marked tendency, however, on the part of one or two, such houses as being, and the high decolletage of the Moyen-age, it is undoubtedly ugly!

PROGRESSIVE WINS IN PARTY DEBATE

In a debate, "Resolved, that the Progressive platform is better than the Socialist platform," held at the Armenian Club, the Progressive platform was awarded the decision of the judges over Moses Avnikian, who spoke for the Socialist interests. The debate was held under the auspices of the Armenians' Debating Club, with an attendance of 125 people.

At the business meeting of the club the following officers were elected to hold office until January 1: President, E. H. let it cook very gently, stirring frequently until a stiff paste is formed. Then turn the paste into a basin, add a tablespoonful of butter and the yolks of two eggs, beating one into the ingredients before adding the second. When the eggs are mixed, stir in three tablespoonfuls of grated cheese and a season with celery salt, pepper and a little grated nutmeg. Add a pinch of salt to the white of the eggs and whisk them to a very stiff froth. Fill the hollow places of tomato as expeditiously as possible with the cheese mixture. Place them at once on a well-buttered tin and cook them in a quick oven until the tomato is evenly browned, which should take about a quarter of an hour. Half the above quantity would be sufficient if only six small portions of tomato were to be filled.

MACARONI WITH TOMATOES—Break into short lengths, macaroni enough to fill a large coffee cup, and dash into pot of boiling water, which is well salted. Cook until tender, and stir very often at first to keep from sticking to the bottom of the pot. When cooked, drain off all the liquor, put the macaroni into a porcelain kettle and add one cup of either beef or chicken stock and one cup of tomatoes, which have been rubbed through a colander. Let this simmer for twenty minutes, or until the liquor is well absorbed. Add to it half a cup of grated cheese, one tablespoonful of butter, salt and red pepper to taste, and serve very hot.

TOMATOES AND CHEESE—Ten medium-sized tomatoes allow half a tablespoonful of butter and a quarter of a pound of full cream cheese or Parmesan cheese. Roast the tomatoes and remove the skins. Then place them in a granite steamer and cook for two or three hours, or until the water has evaporated. Season to taste and remove from the fire. Stir in the cheese and serve immediately.—Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE BRANCH IS PLANNED FOR KEARNEY RANCH

Prof. Hunt of the State University Explains Why Ranch Has Not Been Developed Into An Active School

Prof. Thomas F. Hunt, head of the Agricultural college of the State University at Berkeley, addressed more than a hundred members of the Commercial club at a special noon luncheon given in the club room in the Holland building yesterday and explained many of the puzzling details relative to the development of Kearney Ranch into an active educational branch of the State Agricultural State Agricultural school, D. S. Hunt presided at the meeting.

No definite program of development for Kearney ranch has yet been outlined, but Prof. Hunt said there probably would be in the near future. If all university plans are carried out, in explaining the delay in the development, he shouldered most of the blame, declaring that he wanted to establish a school in Fresno county that would be the most practical of its kind in the world. At this stage of the explanation W. F. Chandler took the floor and said that Prof. Hunt had planned to establish a school at Kearney ranch that would be devoted to the practical training of young men in the actual farm management of fruit husbandry and general farming, especially suited to this community. Chandler approved the plan as actually outlined. Prof. Hunt invited the club to appoint a committee to take the matter up with him that the development of the ranch may be discussed. Once the plans are made definite, the committee will probably take active part in a campaign to induce the legislature to appropriate the necessary funds to the university to develop into more than a farm that is paying substantial dividends.

G. S. Waterman, president of the Commercial club, said following the dinner that he would appoint five club members as a committee to take this matter up with Prof. Hunt that some definite plan for development of the ranch might be worked out as soon as possible.

"The first time I ever heard of the Kearney Ranch, at least, in its relation to any educational program was in New York City two years ago last July," said Prof. Hunt. "President Wheeler had been kind enough to ask me if I would come to California. How kind he was being to me I did not know at that time. Fully appreciative of the many things that he had done for me, I had to talk to be about was Mr. Kearney's will and the proper use and development of the great property bequeathed thereby to the regents of the University.

At various times since President Wheeler has discussed this subject with me. He has not only expressed the most profound interest and sympathy in the future development of Kearney Ranch but has felt sincerely concerned because of the necessary delay. So far as the last two years are concerned, I account all the rest of the delay to the fact that he has been unable to get the necessary money to the delay. The plan is to make the Kearney Ranch a very important and integral part of the greatest institution in the world for research and instruction in agriculture, horticulture, forestry and allied topics. Naturally no definite plan could be taken by anyone until the man for the moment, immediately in charge of this enterprise had definite and concrete recommendations to make.

College Activity Discussed. "In order for you to understand the situation fully I must briefly describe the present resources and activities of your College of Agriculture and Experiment Station. The College of Agriculture of the University of California is not located at Berkeley. It is located in California.

It has now eight properties scattered about the state where the work of the college and station is conducted and has placed farm advisers in nine counties. At Berkeley its activities may be divided into four types: Research, post graduate instruction, undergraduate instruction and external instruction or extension work. Under the latter heading may be mentioned our correspondence instruction in agriculture. The first correspondence lesson in agriculture was mailed from Berkeley on September 20, last year. There are now 10,700 persons registered in these courses. Through other extension activities it is estimated that we come in contact with 200,000 people. This estimate. At any rate, our staff writes more than 50,000 letters annually, large in answer to inquiries, and we mail 500,000 circulars, bulletins and reports of our experimental work. There are between five and six hundred students studying agriculture at Berkeley. Walk across the Berkeley campus and ask every young man you come to and one in six will tell you he is studying agriculture.

At the University Farm at Davis, we also have at least four types of work. There is research work with animals, including poultry, dairying, field crops, deciduous tree fruits and grapes. For example, we have 500 varieties of grapes under test. There is also a school of agriculture. A school for students who have reached college age, but do not have the requirement for admission to the university or for any others who may desire to be rushed. There are conducted, as provided by law, short courses in various branches of agriculture. These begin this year on October 6 and continue six weeks. The fourth activity is instruction, which we give during the second semester to University students who come from Berkeley for this purpose.

Farm School Attendance Good. "The first semester last year, the attendance at the University Farm school was 185. Already this semester the enrollment has reached 253, or an increase of 35 per cent. The normal increase of a state institution of learning is 15 per cent.

"Last year at this time there were 47 applications for short courses. The applications this year have reached 99. Last year 51 university students received instruction at Davis. Not counting the same students twice it is probable that resident instruction in agriculture will be given to approximately 1,000 students at Berkeley and Davis, while as before, correspondence instruction is being given to 10,000 persons. I will not stop to sketch the work at Riverside, Whittier and Imperial valley.

Estimated Cost of Kearney Development.

"A number of suggestions have been made concerning the way in which Kearney Ranch may eventually contribute to the work of the College of Agriculture. One suggestion had been made that the ranch should be made a school for the study of some definite problem, life tuberculosis in cattle. My own thought, at first was that when the University Farm at Davis had been developed to such a size as to be most economically administered, that another unit along similar lines should be started at the Kearney ranch. At the Davis farm the emphasis would be placed upon livestock husbandry, while at Kearney emphasis would be upon fruits and field crops. However, as I have come to study the situation further, I have come to feel that such greater service can be rendered to the state by establishing a school that shall be quite different from anything that has ever been undertaken—an institution which from its intrinsic value and uniqueness would attract the attention of the educational world. The institution such as I have in mind will not be a cheap institution in any sense of the word. If it is as successful as I think it will be, it is destined to revolutionize our ideas of education in general. It can not be started until it can be started right. The cost is not less than $120,000 annually to conduct at the University farm at Davis. In addition the last legislature appropriated $135,000 for buildings. A lesser program would not be satisfactory for Kearney. A great deal of study has been given to this problem. Among other things we have found it desirable to examine into the finances of the Kearney ranch to determine how far the profits might be applicable to the support of any enterprise which it may be finally determined as best for this location. You may be interested in this aspect of the matter. The committee of the University has furnished me the following figures:

Total profits of Kearney Vineyard, Mar. 1, 1905, to June 30, 1914	$267,000
Estimated profits July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915	30,000
Total	$297,000
Payment of mortgage and bonded indebtedness	$172,000
Total capital improvements, including the drainage system	35,000
Paid to the support and maintenance of the Dept. of Agriculture of the University of California for two years, beginning July 1, 1913, and ending June 30, 1915, at the rate of $40,000 a year	80,000
Total	$287,000

"It will thus be seen that the cost of conducting a suitable institution such as we all want to see established at Kearney will require many times its present income. The time has not arrived to go into details. Suffice it to

FAIR DEPARTMENTS SHOW PROGRESS EVERYWHERE

New Buildings Are Being Crowded to Doors

Exhibitors Show Greater Interest Than Ever Before

Practically every department at the Fresno District will establish new records this year. The rapid growth of the Fresno District fair from year to year has drawn the attention of those who have exhibited to make next this year there have been demands for space that have taxed the capacity of the housing accommodations. Even the construction of new buildings has barely given enough additional space to take care of the exhibits.

Pure bred cattle, sheep, and hogs will be shown in many different breeds. Premiums are offered for Shortlorns, Devons, Herefords, Angus or Galloways, Red Polls, Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys, Ayrshires, Dutch belted, and Brown Swiss among the cattle. In the hog department, B. Dickinson is in charge of this department.

Premiums are offered for eight different breeds of swine. Berkshire, Essex, Poland-China, Yorkshire, Duro-Jersey, O. I. C. Hogs, Hampshire, and Tamworth are the different varieties of porkers that will be exhibited. H. A. Sessions has the charge of the hogs and also of the sheep.

Of the latter, six breeds are expected to be shown. They are Spanish, Alpine, French, Marino, Southdown, Persians, Leicester and Catshead, and Shropshire.

Bees Display. Job Criseman has charge of the bees and honey. Premiums will be given for the best exhibits of clover, orange, alfalfa and clover hives and honey, as well as for different displays of honey, combs, beehives, etc.

Some of the different kinds of bees that produce honey to be entered in the displays are: Italian bees, Black bees, Carniolan bees, Caucasian bees, and Spanish bees.

The dairy department is separate from the cattle and has to do with dairy products. A five days milking contest will be a part of the dairy department. Premiums are hung up for displays of machinery and supplies used in dairying. In the milking contest four premiums are offered, ranging from $15 for the first prize to a herd of not less than three cows to $40 as the fourth prize in this lot. For single cows in the contest prizes range from $30 to $10, four being given. The Dairy department is in charge of J. W. Smith.

In the agricultural department, under the supervision of Roger M. Roberts, educational displays are particularly encouraged. Premiums are offered for the best displays of grain, seeds, vegetables. The horticultural department is also in charge of Mr. Roberts and offers prizes for dried fruits, canned fruits, citrus fruits, apples, plums, peaches, pears, grapes, and miscellaneous fruits such as pomgranates, persimmons, quinces, apricots, prunes, etc. Olives, walnuts, butternuts, pecans, almonds and peanuts also come in for premiums. The horticultural department also has a display of tobacco, one of the leading industries of the valley has not been forgotten and five dollar prizes are offered for the best displays of Turkish tobacco and White Leaf Burley tobacco.

Prizes. Eight hundred dollars in prizes is to be distributed in the special agricultural and horticultural contests. This department is to include all horticultural and agricultural products, but not dairy products. No prepared fruit or vegetables will be allowed, but any and all kinds of home-grown fruits, berries, etc., will be gladly accepted. This is open to entries from all towns, districts, agricultural and women's clubs of the valley except Fresno city. The judges will make a scale of points in determining who will be the best. These will cover the quality and variety of the products and the artistic arrangement of the products and of the decorations used. The educational value of the display and the originality of it will also count. Five premiums are given: first, $100; second, $50; third, $25; fourth, $10; fifth, $5.

In the floral and nursery department, cut flowers, plants, nursery stock, and artistic design will all come in for prizes.

The women's department in charge of Mrs. H. H. Hest is probably the most interesting of all to the women. Many premiums are offered, covering a great variety of articles. Cotton embroidery, silk embroidery, lace and drawn work, pillows and bags, bedspreads and quilts, miscellaneous work, etc., are the articles that will be exhibited, have premiums offered.

Art Department. Mrs. R. E. Cox is meeting with much success in the art department and is making this one of the most creditable of them all. Oil paintings, the display of pictures, drawings, hand painted china and miscellaneous articles are the classes in which prizes are offered.

A. A. Sorenson has charge of the educational department and will have work of school children of the county and valley. Sewing, cooking, and manual training work will be displayed. A stock judging contest will also be one of the features.

The department of Machinery and Vehicles, superintended by Mr. M. G. Gosh covers all agricultural implements, buggies, wagons, etc. The exhibits of the department will be greater this year than ever before.

Secretary Eberhart and the directors are much pleased with the showing that is being made in every department. It is a matter of much gratification that they are able to show improvements everywhere.

AUTO RACER KILLED. DENVER, Colo., Sept. 25. — E. W. Swanbrough, a veteran automobile racer, was killed in a race at the Overland track here late today. His machine plunged through a fence and a timber pile, and he was killed by the heat. This was the first day of a series of races conducted by the Denver Motor Club.

say as the plans develop I will be glad of the opportunity to confer with the committee which I understand it is your purpose to appoint, and to receive the criticisms and suggestions which the committee may have to offer."

WEBBER PLEADS SELF DEFENSE TO MURDER

Expert Gun Shot Demonstrations Testified to in Support of His Version

Nicholas Webber took the witness stand in his own behalf yesterday in his trial before Judge Church and jury for the killing of Peter Haupt in August last at the Sycamore ranch, in a dispute over the boundary rights to irrigation water. The defense opened yesterday afternoon and the defendant will close his testimony today.

Webber pleads self-defense, claiming that Haupt had twice assaulted him with a shovel, that having refused him to leave, he had been driven against a fence, blocking further retreat, being excited and frightened and recalling previous threats of Haupt to injure or kill him, he pulled the trigger of the shotgun that he had with him to shoot rabbits, and the fatal wound in the back was the result.

The interesting feature at the trial yesterday was the attack made by Attorneys Johnston and Jones for Webber, of the testimony given by Carl Paaske, the only witness for the prosecution who witnessed any feature of the encounter. He claimed to have seen the two men just before the fatal encounter from his viewpoint 200 or 250 yards away and claims that the shot was fired when the interval between Webber and Haupt was about 45 feet, with a ditch between them as well as the fence and the angular view that he had.

This testimony was attacked by proof that the fatal wound was a circular one in the back, with no scuffing marks, and no powder burns, but that the two wounds of the cartridge were found in the wound. Deputy Sheriff Coules and F. J. Stone, both of whom are expert handlers of the shot gun, testified to practical demonstrations made by them shooting at targets with the Webber shotgun and cartridges of the kind used by him, showing that at a distance as great, and even less than testified to by Paaske, there was scattering shot marks, also powder burns on the target and even marks of the compact of the wad. Also that clean results such as shown in the fatal wound were produced by shots fired at a distance no greater than 5 or 8 feet from the muzzle of the firearm.

The purpose of this testimony is by destroying the possible effect of Paaske's testimony to strengthen the self-defense theory that the distance between the combatants was only that of the length of a shovel, and to that extent corroborating Webber's version that he was within danger proximity of the lungs of that shovel.

The theory of the prosecution's case as presented by District Attorney McCormick is that Webber came armed, caught Haupt in the neighboring field and shot at him after he had moved away after their verbal wrangle over water rights.

UNION OIL WELL LONG IDLE STARTS FLOWING

Strange Phenomenon Is Witnessed in Sunset
Field; Well Is Old One

MARICOPA, Sept. 25.—The strange phenomenon of the season for this vicinity occurred on Thursday when the No. 7 well on the Webster lease of the Union Oil Company, on section 22, 23-24, commenced flowing of its own accord at a rate of better than 350 barrels a day. The well had not been touched for many months and had been dripping away, producing not more than ten barrels and sometimes as little as five barrels. During the early hours of Thursday morning the well showed signs of a great gas disturbance and flowed a large amount of gas for a time. Later the gas settled down and when next seen the well was flowing a strong head of oil and has since that time kept up the flow, which is estimated at over 350 barrels.

The well is one of the old ones on that section and is known as the No. 7 Webster hole. It was drilled in the fall of 1909, and when first brought in produced at the rate of 100 barrels for several months. Later the flow diminished until it was doing little better than five barrels. At various times the well was worked on and agitated, and sometimes the efforts increased the flow materially. However, for the past year little has been done with it and it was left to produce or stop as it saw fit, and it settled down to a five to ten-barrel drip.

It is so seldom that a well will start up under the circumstances and make a good flow that the news has attracted the attention of oil men from all around Maricopa and is considered a great curiosity.

The land upon which the well is located belongs to the Midway Oil Company, and was leased to the Sunset

LOST HILLS LEASE IS MAKING FINE SHOWING

Development Co. Has Well Producing 700 Barrels; Sanitary Camp

LOST HILLS, Sept. 25.—Perhaps no new lease in all the fields of California is showing up any better than is that of the Lost Hills Development Company. The No. 1 well has been completed at a depth of 700 feet and is now producing better than 300 barrels daily. The oil is 21 gravity. The No. 2 is standing cemented and is to be drilled in during the next few days. The No. 2 is now doing 200 barrels. Superintendent William McCain is claiming much for his new lease, and is putting forth every effort to make it one of the best both above and below ground. He claims that even though the lease is far from any railroad, it is one of the most sanitary and up-to-the-minute of any occupied by oil men.

A. H. Hays & Son are just completing the installation of a thorough sanitary system with a Leach system septic tank and cesspool. In conjunction with this are lines connecting all the buildings in which have been installed big tests of plumbing fixtures.

During the past two weeks two 2,000-barrel tanks have been erected on the property by the Ditts tank builders that the production from the new wells may be properly gauged and cared for before it is run to the lines of the Standard Oil Company.

Road Oil Company in 1909, and was in turn that same year leased to the Union by the Sunset Road Oil Company.

On account of the affairs of the Sunset Road Oil Company being thrown into court, the lease was not developed to any extent and it will expire in April, 1915, and will then revert back to the original owners. Along with the Webster lease and owned by the same company was about four sections of land in all on which the Union had leases. All of the same time and will be open for development after that time, as it is understood that the owners of the company will insist upon the development of the land in another lease or will handle the property themselves, so as to make it a producing and paying proposition.

The land involved was at one time the busiest scene on the West Side oil fields. The Union Oil Company, after taking the lease from the Sunset Road Oil Company, started a drilling campaign which lasted for a short time but showed good intentions toward developing the land. At the beginning the Union started 17 wells drilling and continued to increase the number until the Sunset Road Oil Company's affairs were thrown into the hands of a receiver and the validity of the leases were questioned.

In the immediate vicinity of the lines of the property several of the field's best wells were brought in. The old Lakeview well, the Edmunds Midway and many others proved the territory to be one of the richest oil fields in the world.

G. P. IS MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

TAMPT, Sept. 25.—The General Petro- leum Company is now making good time in the drilling of the No. 3 well on the old 11 and 12 lease on section 22, 23-24. Cable tools were installed at a depth of 330 feet, about 190 feet having been made since the rotary was pulled out. The 8 1/2-inch string is being run. It is believed that the oil sand which made such a good showing in the old wells in the neighborhood, which were never completed, will be reached at about 330 feet. This sand made the No. 2 well of the 11 and 12 a good producer, but as the hole was but a 2-inch one and the water was not shut off, it was impossible to make the well a paying proposition.

DRILLING TROUBLE BESETS K. T. & O.

TAMPT, Sept. 25.—The Kern Trading and Oil Company has had much bad luck in the past week. On section 9, 32-24, offsetting the St. Helena Petroleum Company. Later the No. 13 well has a string of drill pipe stuck. An effort is now being made to pull it. The No. 19 on the same property is down 2142 feet with a rotary. On section 1, 32-23, the drill pipe has been dropped and is being fished for. It became loose in a depth of 1700 feet. On section 35, 31-23, the No. 15 well, which is being re-drilled, is in trouble with a lost boiler. It is stuck in the bottom joint of the pipe and refuses to loosen. The pipe may be pulled that it may be taken from the hole.

S. F. TO BAR OUTSIDE AMUSEMENTS IN 1915

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Amusement features in opposition to the Panama-Pacific Exposition will not be permitted by Mayor Ralph to spring up in the streets and causal links on the amusement sites to the exposition. The mayor made his position clear yesterday when he returned a resolution to the supervisors without his approval, which had been adopted with the idea of allowing a private amusement park to be built near the exposition grounds. The mayor said he considered such acts would be a violation of San Francisco's trust, imposed by the state and nation and by those who had donated liberally to the support of the world's fair.

EXCHANGE TO RESUME SOME OF ITS WORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Another step toward resumption of general business in the financial markets was taken today when the stock exchange in conjunction with dealers in unfilled bonds and stocks announced that private purchases and sales of unfilled securities would be permitted when necessary, in moderate concessions from the prices of July 30.

It is stipulated, however, that such transactions must not be harmful to the general situation and must be kept within bounds. This ruling is a further modification of the regulation re-

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep
the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink
every few minutes,
and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it.
It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said,
'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." — Mrs. ALONZO E.
BAKKE, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.

In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Another step toward resumption of general business in the financial markets was taken today when the stock exchange in conjunction with dealers in unfilled bonds and stocks announced that private purchases and sales of unfilled securities would be permitted when necessary, in moderate concessions from the prices of July 30.

It is stipulated, however, that such transactions must not be harmful to the general situation and must be kept within bounds. This ruling is a further modification of the regulation recently promulgated by the exchange, permitting dealings in bonds and unfilled notes also at moderate concessions. All the business to be conducted under this latest rule, which includes the stocks handled by the "curb" will be supervised by a committee consisting of stock exchange members, non-member bond dealers and the chairman of the "curb" market.

LABOR COUNCIL MAY RETURN TO UNION HALL

Agree to Go Back If Insurgent Unions Are Willing

G. W. Boswell Files Charges Against T. F. Ryan of Bartenders

By the adoption of a resolution, the Fresno Labor Council agreed last night to return to its old meeting place in union hall, providing that unions which have also left the hall agree to return. The council desired union hall several months ago, owing to a controversy with the Carpenters' union, which leased the building. The resolution was presented by a committee from the council and the Carpenters' union, but the council will also be presented to other unions that have left the hall. The resolution follows:

Whereas, For some time past a difference of opinion has existed between the Carpenters' union and the Labor Council, relative to certain matters of policy, and

Whereas, A controversy has taken place which has extended to the affiliated unions to the end that they have left the Union Hall and are scattered, with meeting halls in different places, and

Whereas, A committee of conciliation of the Carpenters and the Labor Council, asks your support of the following resolution, to the end that the union hall be made available to the recognized headquarters of a United Labor movement for the benefit of organized labor:

Resolved, That the Fresno Labor Council endorse the sentiments of this preamble and signify their intention to return to Union Hall, if suitable arrangements can be made.

Boswell Files Charges.
G. W. Boswell, newly elected secretary of the council, last night filed charges against T. F. Ryan, a delegate from the Bartenders' union. Boswell charges that Ryan has made the public statement that he, Boswell, is an agent of the Merchant, Manufacturers and Employers' association.

A committee of five, consisting of C. Sharp, Charles Dillon, T. C. Edgar, F. S. Baxter and M. C. Dyer, was elected to investigate the charges. If the committee reports that the charges are well founded, Ryan will be tried by the council.

F. S. Baxter, Earl Woodner and G. W. Boswell were appointed a committee to attend the hearing on "Safety First" which is to be held in the Chamber of Commerce building next Wednesday night by John B. Brown of the Public Safety Commission.

At an enthusiastic mass meeting held last night at Jas. A. Coleman's barber shop the Afro-American Protective League was organized. ## GRAPE MARKET IS STILL UNCERTAIN

Rain Has Not Damaged Fruit Very Much—Lodi Floods Market

Conditions in the grape market are still very uncertain, according to statements made by packers last night. The present rain probably has not damaged the crop to any great extent.

Last week the growers and packers received assurances that Lodi would stop flooding the market, but from all indications no let-up has been called by that association in that district, should the rain strike there, the crop will be materially damaged, it is claimed.

Local packers have hopes that they may begin active operations by next Monday.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HAVE HALF HOLIDAY ON FRIDAY FOR FAIR

Building Work Soon to Be Undertaken On Much Larger Scale

School children in Fresno will have a half holiday on next Friday with dismissal at noon for all to attend the Fresno district fair. Provision for this was made at a meeting of the board of education, held last evening. Friday is Children's Day at the fair and the management have already distributed several hundred free admission tickets to the Fresno school children.

A discussion of the building work was held at the meeting. All the plans are either well under way or the actual work begun, according to the report. After October 8, the date of the sale of $250,000 in bonds of the $450,000 issue, the work will be undertaken on a much larger scale.

The special business of the meeting was to award contracts for the coal and oil used in the department during the next year. The Fresno Coal Company was awarded the contract on the coal. The bid of the California-Fresno Oil Company was accepted for the crude oil.

Chilpinger's rhetoric and composition book was adopted for the next four years in the high school.

HIGH SCHOOL SENATE ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

Debate Wilson's Policy With Troops at Vera Cruz

At the second meeting of the year the Fresno High School Senate, called to order by Vice-President Walter Henderson, last night held an important debate on the question, "Resolved: That President Wilson is justifiable in withdrawing the troops from Vera Cruz." The affirmative was awarded the decision by a vote of 7 to 4. Melvin Gibbs spoke on the affirmative and Oscar Lebon, an honorary member, was the negative speaker.

Under the election of new members, Walter Harrell and John Bernier were elected to membership and took the obligation; Harrell drawing the state of Nevada and Bernier, Alabama. The new members when given the floor to state their politics, declared themselves Democrats. They afterward made speeches on current events. Under the proposals for membership the names of Oscar Lebon and Olney Sessions were proposed.

Two new amendments were proposed to the constitution, one providing for the election of new members by a two-thirds vote of those present; the other, giving Junior College students the right to become members providing they do not belong to the forum. Marvin Bevan was granted an honorary membership. The meeting adjourned at 11:30 o'clock.

A feature of the electrical storm of last Thursday afternoon was the thunder bolt that struck the residence of C. P. Plender, on the corner of Maple and South avenues, south of this city. The lightning struck the roof near a chimney, smashed a rafter, which it followed for six feet or more, and tore out the shingles. No life was started, however.

Eighteen men placed in custody by one officer, single handed is the record that was made by Special Officer Tift of the Southern Pacific Company, Friday morning when he hunted that number before Justice Smith and charged them with vagrancy.

All of the men were found on the railroad's right-of-way and many of them had been there for several days. To abate this nuisance, Officer Tift has returned to enforce a "move on" campaign.

A well known beauty specialist advises this treatment for the removal of hair from the face: Mix into a paste some powdered talc and water, apply to hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This method is quick and entirely safe. To avoid disappointment, however, it is well to make certain you get genuine talc.

The tourists are now enroute to California from Eastern points and advance reports say that as high as 75 extra tourist cars have been added to different sections of the trains in order to accommodate the crowds.

Local railroad agents are authority for the statement that the majority of the tickets read for passage through the San Joaquin Valley, and it is expected that many of the tourists will make use of their stopovers in Fresno. The vanguard of the tourists will reach California Sunday.

LARGE DEMAND FOR VALLEY FARM LANDS

Forkner Expects to Expend $20,000 on His New Subdivision

That there will be just as much demand this year for farm lands in California and especially in the San Joqu coastal valley is the opinion of J. C. Forkner, who has just placed "Westacres," a new subdivision near the city on the market. Forkner has been in the real estate business for several years in Fresno and has subdivided and sold many large tracts of land. He is planning on expending about $20,000 this year on improvements on the lower tract.

"The state of California is growing at the rate of about 150,000 to 200,000 yearly," said Forkner yesterday, "and it seems as though they keep coming during times of depression just as much as during times of expansion. In it the new subdivision Westacres, close to the city of Fresno, I have received many inquiries; and have sold three tracts and that there are five or six now figuring on buying and improving. One man is going to plant Thompson Seedless grapes, and another will plant English walnuts."

imately $50,000 and is made of pressed bricks. The lower floor will be used for store rooms while the second and third stories will be used for the hotel. There will be 182 rooms in the two floors. The structure is class C.

C. E. Pilley, who is conducting the experimental gardens on the Fitzwilliam ranch at Wheatville, is having remarkable success with some of the many varieties of plant life. Vegetables, trees, berries, shrubs, flowers and cereals in endless varieties are to be seen in and around the gardens. Several squares of rice, fetaita, ranie, cotton, tomatoes, beets, okra, and cauliflower are making a vigorous growth, evidently being some of the many varieties of plants that he has experimented with that might be the nucleus to new industries in this section. The buildings and grounds are a model of neatness.

FINISHING PLANS FOR NEW SCHOOL

Washington School to Have 16 Rooms; Will Cost $95,000

Plans are now being finished by Architect Mathewson for the new Washington school which will be erected on Dearborn and Glenn avenues and will be submitted to the board of education for their approval in about ten days. It is figured that the new school will cost in the neighborhood of $95,000 or $95,500. The building will be made of brick and will be two stories in height. The structure will be of the Italian Renaissance style, with the roof and in the shape of the letter "E." The school will contain 12 large class rooms besides rooms for the bookkeeping department, domestic science, dining room, kitchen, sewing room, fitting room, laundry, and manual training. In the central section of the building will be the auditorium, 64 by 72 feet, and having a seating capacity of 1,100. The left wing of the building will be 153 feet while the right is 82 feet. The main section is 362 feet long, and 38 feet wide. The building will be constructed along the lines of the open air plan. The halls will be made of cement.

OPIMUM SMUGGLERS CLASH WITH DETECTIVES SECRET SERVICE MEN MAKE THRILLING SCENE

The turning point in the "Escape"—at the Kinema last time today.

Today for the last time, the "Escape" will be shown here, and it highly needs recommending, for a play that has broken all records, having shown to more people than any other play ever shown in Fresno, must be good and certainly is a credit to the good judgment of Fresnoans.

Float Opium in Legs.

When opium smugglers and secret service men clash, something is bound to happen. And, this something is so different and startling that one is apt to get surprised wondering what's coming next in regard to these nefarious breakers of the law.

Actual Smuggling Scenes.

Few of us ever will get a real view of these secret crooks of their work, not secret service men, who have followed them in their work have written this story and are the authority for the exactness of every detail. Francis X. Bushman Wins Contest.

Every one will remember the contest conducted by the Ladies' World, for the most popular photo-play act, in which was won by Francis X. Bushman and allotted to him the honor's part in the exciting story, "One Wonderful Night," which is to be shown at the Kinema, next Tuesday and Wednesday.—Adv.

HESSE BOOKS BIG ACTS IN BAY CITY ALSO ARRANGES TO SHOW FEATURE FILMS

Extremely clever musicians at Plaza.

Manager Frank Hesse of the Plaza Theatre and Empire Theatre, is now in San Francisco conferring with Bert Levy of the booking agency. The object is to secure feature acts for the opening two months at the Empire. The Plaza is to move into its winter quarters Wednesday, Sept. 30, at the Empire Theatre, which has been thoroughly cleaned and renovated.

Mr. Hesse will include a trip to all of the valley managers of theaters while away. He will make arrangements to secure some of the best feature acts of the coast.

Another departure that he is preparing for is the showing of feature reels at the Empire this winter. Vaudeville will be given every evening as has been the custom for the last three years, and vaudeville matinees will be given on Saturday and Sunday as usual.

But on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoon pictures will be shown.

Thousand Dollar Bill Big Success. The Thousand Dollar Vaudeville bill now playing is a big success. The acts are unusually good and are all features.

One of the big headliners is Sean, the dancing juggler whose feats are remarkably clever and whose comedy keeps the crowd in a good humor at the same time.

Hosella & Hosella in their musical act are also a big success. Their act is accompanied by musicians whose work is genuinely good.

Hosella and Hosella play a number of instruments, the harp, the violin.

ERECT TABLET IN MARGOLIN'S HONOR

Tribute to Forest Ranger Sunk in Granite at Ross Crossing

A memorial tablet to Louis Margolin, an inspector in the United States Forest Service, who lost his life on June 20, while trying to cross Dickey Creek in the Sierra National Forest, has been erected at the place where the accident is believed to have occurred. Margolin's body has never been recovered. The tablet is of bronze, bearing a facsimile of the Forest Service badge. It is sunk in a granite boulder at Ross Crossing, where the trail crosses Dickey Creek. The design on the tablet is in the form of a circle bearing the following words: "To Remember Louis Margolin, who lost his life June 20, 1914, near this spot, in the line of duty."

the barroom, the dance, and the symphony being among them. They are more than merely performers, being musicians of talent and their music aside from the comedy is a most enjoyable part of their offering.

"Follies of Vaudeville" have a thoroughly laughable act in which there is no little skill. Two men and a woman, all of them specialists in their lines. Some very unique comedy is introduced by the cyclist of the trio. Singing, dancing, and trick bicycle riding make up their act. One of the best things in the vaudeville dance, which is extremely unique.

Steve Jaxon, singer, dancer, saxophonist is extremely clever on his feet and his dancing is entirely enjoyable. Steve is one of the lightest dancers who has been seen here. The high class singing of the Three Cavalliers is also a most enjoyable feature on the Thousand Dollar Bill. They dress in accord with the character of their act and the title that they have taken to themselves.

From start to finish the bill is a good one. People have learned that "Thousand Dollar Vaudeville" is a title that means something, that it is a guarantee of an unusually good show.

Mr. Hesse will return today. During his absence the theater has been conducted by Mr. P. H. Bottoms and Mr. Fred Dow.

Shows are given at 7:45 and 9:15 each evening. Seats reserved by phone 242.

Last night's show was given at the Empire on account of the rain, which theater will be used tonight depends on the weather.—Adv.

Caution! Dangerous crossing of street car line of State highway just north of Fresno city limits. Best route from Fresno to Bakersfield is via Reedley, Dinuba, Taft, Visalia, Exeter, Lemoore, Porterville, Richwood and Bakersfield via Oil Fields route. Road via Corcoran and Tulare shorter but not in such good condition. Famous to Bakersfield under construction but well signed for direct traffic. Thence via Tehachapi Pass and Oak Creek road to Wilcox Springs and Elizabeth Lake and Bouquet Canyon (very dusty) thence to Saucier, San Fernando and Los Angeles. (Tehachan Pass impassable). Road from Bakersfield to Saucier very sandy. Almost impassable.

VIOLENT FIGHTING NOW MARKS GREAT BATTLE IN FRANCE

The fighting is nothing toward the town of Montreuil-sur-Meuse. The action is continuing. The German forces have succeeded in penetrating nearly as far as St. Mihiel, on the right bank of the Meuse, 20 miles south-southeast of Verdun, but have not been able to cross the river.

Violent Fighting. Sept. 25, 11:47 p. m.—The official communication issued at 11 o'clock tonight regarding the progress of the battle in northern France, says that this morning French troops in the region of Novion were compelled to give ground before superior forces, but having been reinforced again, assumed the offensive, the engagement being one of particular violence.

The text of the statement follows: "1. On our left wing in the region to the northwest of Novion, our advanced troops having come into contact with superior forces of the enemy, were compelled this morning to give ground. Being reinforced, however, by fresh troops, these troops have vigorously resumed the offensive.

"The struggle in this region has taken on a character of extreme violence.

"2. In the center, there is nothing new to report.

"3. On our right wing the enemy has begun to give way before the attacks of our troops coming from the direction of Nancy and Toul.

"The southern region of Woëvre, the being in retreating toward the town of Montreuil-sur-Meuse. The action is continuing. The German forces have succeeded in penetrating nearly as far as St. Mihiel, on the right bank of the Meuse, 20 miles south-southeast of Verdun, but have not been able to cross the river.

At the Battle Front. Sept. 25, via Paris, 6:16 p. m.—French and British troops, intermingled, Turcos and Maures, not only held their own, but caused the strongly reinforced German western wing to reel backwards near St. Quentin yesterday and today, and impeded the German line of communication towards the frontier of Belgium.

The German center has weakened by the rush of troops from that position to meet the threatening movement of the allies, and two strong forces were engaged at close quarters today between St. Quentin and Terguier.

The military authorities naturally refuse to permit disclosures of the nature of the exact fighting, but it is generally known that the battle now progressing is of prime importance.

Meanwhile at other parts of the battle line, about 120 miles long, fighting continued today in dogged fashion.

The allied troops followed the example set by the Germans and dug themselves deeply in.

The artillery of both armies kept up an incessant fire while French and German aviators reconnoitered from above.

The commanders of the allied forces have found the reason for the wonderful precision of the German fire in a spy discovered in their lines who signalled directions. He was caught and immediately shot.

Troops Hardened.
All the troops appear to have become thoroughly hardened and accustomed to conditions. The commissariat and the ammunition supply departments are working perfectly. While the soldiers are occupying the advanced firing lines, they are scarcely ever without one hot meal a day, which is brought to them in camp kettles from the field kitchen.

The British artillery officers praise highly the gunnery of their opponents. They declare that the German shells almost always burst at accurate range but often too high to do damage. The soldiers rest occasionally when in deep trenches, smoking pipes and cigarettes for a ration of tobacco is served regularly. Meanwhile shells tear by overhead with a sound like the rattling of a machine gun.

British officers relate an incident which they say occurred during twilight yesterday. A large force of German infantry, when charged by a British battalion, held up their hands in token of surrender. The British approached them, prisoners who, it is said, the Germans reopened fire. The British officers ordered their men to lie down which they did. The three British machine guns were brought into action and killed every German in that portion of the field.

Corps At Waterloo.

LONDON, Sept. 25, 2:10 p. m.—The Oxford correspondent of the Reuters Telegram company sends the following dispatch:

"Forty thousand Germans have been encamped in the environs of Waterloo since Saturday, headquarters being established at Ruyssbroeck. All passports to Mons are being refused by the German authorities at Brussels, the object apparently being to prevent travelers seeing the great amount of army transport which has already returned there from France.

"The Germans have installed heavy siege guns at Grimbergen and Maysse. To prevent the inhabitants of these places from reporting this fact, the men have all been shut up in a church and the women have been sent to Brussels.

"As a consequence of the exhaustion of supplies in some districts of provinces, the German governor of Brussels has consented to Burkomaster Max going to Antwerp with the object of securing the consent of the Belgian government for the distribution of provisions and cattle to revitalize the city. The understanding is that these provisions will not be requisitioned by the Germans.

Blowing Up Bridges.
LONDON, Sept. 25, 4:17 p. m.—Cable from Amsterdam, the correspondent of the Central News said a telegram received there from Maastricht conveys the news that arrivals from Liege are declaring that the Germans are blowing up all the bridges in the vicinity of that city that might be of strategic value to their enemies.

Pause in Alsace.
LONDON, Sept. 25, 3:25 a. m.—A despatch to the Central News from Lucerne, Switzerland, states that military operations in Upper Alsace have been brought to a pause in consequence of falls of snow in the mountains and floods in the valleys.

Among the last reservists called up in Alsace, according to a despatch, are thirty trampist monks from the Oelsberg convent.

COMPETITION IS CHECKED BY S. P.

Would Be Move, Asserts
Lovett, If It Did Not Control C. P.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—If the Southern Pacific Company did not control the Central Pacific Railway, there would be more competition than there is now, in the opinion of Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the United States Interstate Commerce Commission, and formerly head of the entire Harriman system. Judge Lovett's statement to this effect was in reply to questioning by James W. Orr of counsel for the government, at the hearing today in the federal court here caused the Southern Pacific to give up control of the Central Pacific.

"The Southern Pacific owns the Central Pacific Railway stock," testified the witness.

"Does the Southern Pacific control the operation of the Central Pacific lines?" he was asked.

"Yes, it operates them."

"Is there much competition between the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific of California?"

"There is, as far as the Union Pacific goes; but there is no competition between the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific lines, because this road is owned and operated by the Southern Pacific Company."

"If the Southern Pacific did not control the Central Pacific, would there be more competition than there is now?"

"I think there would," replied Judge Lovett.

"Would the Central Pacific then give better service?"

"That is hard to say, because there is no competition now, and what would happen if there was competition, is a matter which would have to be found out later."

Virtually all of the New York-California traffic is solicited by the Southern Pacific lines, the witness testified. He said he knew of no case when the Southern Pacific solicited the Union Pacific, getting traffic through the Ogden gateway.

BLAMES MILITARISTS, NOT KAISER, FOR WAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Andrew Carnegie, advocate of international peace, reached New York today on board the steamship Mauretania with a new version of how the war in Europe started.

"I tell you how the war started," said Mr. Carnegie. "The Kaiser was on his yacht in the North Sea. While he was away he received a telegram asking him to return to Berlin. When he returned the mischief had already been done."

"The Kaiser himself is a marvelous man, possessed of wonderful ingenuity. He has done more good for Germany

ADMIRALTY GIVES OUT FULL REPORT OF SEA DISASTER

"The ship at once began to heel to starboard. After ordering the men to proceed to the lifeboats or hammocks, etc., and to get into the boats on the boom and take off their clothes, I went, by Captain Nicholson's directions, to ascertain the damage in the engine rooms. The artificer in charge informed me that the water was over the engine room gratings. "While endeavoring to return to the bridge, the water burst open the starboard entry port door and the ship heeled rapidly. I told the men in the port battery to jump overboard, and the launch was close alongside and soon afterward the ship lurched heavily to the starboard.

Rescue Officers.
"I clung to a ring bolt for some time but finally dropped onto the deck and a huge wave washed me away. I climbed up the ship's side and was again washed off. Eventually after swimming about from various over-land pieces of wreckage, I was picked up by a cutter from the Hogue, Coxswain L. S. Marks, which pulled about for some hours, picking up men and discharging them to our picket boat at sea. I was then taken to the Dutch steamer Flora and T. A. and rescued in this way Commander Selts, of the Aboukir, Engineer-Commander Stokes, with legs broken; Fleet Paymaster Eldred, and about 120 others.

"Finally about 11 a. m., when we could find no more men in the water, we were picked up by the Loder. "All the men on the Hogue behaved extraordinarily well, obeying orders even when in the water swimming for their lives. Farmstone, able seaman, of the Hogue, jumped overboard from the launch to make room for others and would not avail himself of the assistance until all the men nearby were picked up. He was in the water about half an hour.

"There was no panic of any sort, the men taking off their clothes, as ordered, and falling in with hammock or wood. I have the honor to submit that I may be appointed to another ship as soon as I can get a kit."

The official comment on the report says: "The natural promptings of humanity have in this case led to heavy losses, which would have been avoided by strict adherence to military considerations. Modern naval war is presenting us with so many new and analogous situations that an error of judgment of this character is pardonable. But it was necessary to point out for the firm guidance of His Majesty's ships that conditions which prevail when a vessel of a squadron is injured in a mine field, or is exposed to submarine attack, are analogous to those which occur in action and that the rule of leaving disabled ships to their own resources is applicable so far, at any rate, as large vessels are concerned.

"No act of humanity, whether to friend or foe, should lead to neglect of the proper precautions and discipline of war and no measures can be taken, to save life which prejudice the military situation. Small crafts of all kinds, should, however, be directed by wireless to close on the damaged ship at all speed."

PRESIDENT DECLINES 2 TERM ENDORSEMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—At the direction of President Wilson, Secretary Tumulty today wrote a letter to New Jersey Democrats, declining to have them endorse the president for a second term.

Secretary Tumulty's letter was to Edward E. Grosscup, state treasurer of New Jersey. It follows: "You were generous enough to consult me as to whether the Democrats of New Jersey should at this time endorse the president for a second term. I had a talk with the president about it and he deeply appreciated the generosity of his suggestion, but New Jersey is his home state, the men who would act in this matter are his own personal friends, and he feels that it might seem as if he were taking advantage through such an expressed confidence by them.

"This would be inconsistent with his whole thought and spirit and he desires from it as from something that would embarrass him, rather than help him.

"He feels confident that you will know the spirit in which he says this; that in urging the Democrats of New Jersey not to do this, he is not abating in the least his deep appreciation of it. It was understood that the president decided to allow the New Jersey Democrats not to endorse him for a second term because he believed it would look as though he were seeking re-nomination. His attitude, however, was not taken by friends here to mean that he has decided not to accept a re-nomination if it is offered to him. Democrats in other states have recently endorsed him for a second term and no objection was made at the White House.

"I am sure by the president's friends, Mr. Wilson's position is that he is not considering the question of a second term at this time and that future events will demand his stand. The New Jersey Democratic convention is to be held next Tuesday and Democratic leaders here say it was ready to endorse the president for another term. Before Mr. Tumulty's letter to Mr. Grosscup was written, national Democratic leaders were consulted. It was understood that the president took the position that if the New Jersey Democrats endorsed him for another term, the country might think his candidacy had been formally launched and would think that all his future acts were designed to gain votes. The president is said to be opposed to creating such a situation.

than any other man before him. He has built up a great foreign commerce and a marvelous internal business. The Kaiser himself is a peace-loving man. "The trouble was started by the German military caste that rules the country. They are responsible for the war. "As for my own country, I don't know how to thank God that I live in a land of forty-eight nations and a marvelous internal business. The Kaiser himself is a peace-loving man. "The trouble was started by the German military caste that rules the country. They are responsible for the war. The Kaiser gathered around him a group of men, who, unknown to him, acted in concert and in his absence took the action that could not be altered.

Peace Prices

To the already high cost of living there seems a tendency to add war prices. In this emergency the housewife naturally turns to the greatest food value for the least amount of money and thinks of Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate and Ghirardelli's Cocoa. The prices of these wholesome food-drinks will not advance during 1914.

BOMBARD DALMATIAN PORT.

LONDON, Sept. 25, 5:05 p. m.—A Central News despatch from Rome says that the Austrian coast of Dalmatia, in Dalmatia, was bombarded by a French fleet on September 19. Later troops were landed from the French warships and were into garrison. British and French flags were hoisted over the seaport station at Lisau.

TO INVESTIGATE LOUVAIN BURNING

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—(via wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—The German government has ordered that an exhaustive judicial inquiry be made at once by an independent lawyer into the destruction of the Belgian town of Louvain. An investigation already made proved that on a signal given near the Louvain station by red and green rockets, the civilian population began firing at the German troops. The German press formally protests against the bombardment of the town of Dan-Es-Salam, German East Africa, by a British cruiser.

Mostly clear sky today—is the forecast received from the government weather bureau. Although a new disturbance is passing eastward in the extreme northwest, the local weather will be a little unsettled over Saturday, mostly clear sky in this valley may be expected.

STEEL AWNING WILL REPLACE PORCH ON THE GRAND CENTRAL

Old Timers of Fresno Will Bid Adieu to Ancient Land Mark

Fresnans will bid adieu to the historic Grand Central hotel in about two weeks. The old porch that has shaded "prowling cats" from the sun for the last thirty years is going to be torn down and replaced by a steel awning. This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. J. C. Cooper, brother of Judge Cooper of San Francisco, owner of the building. Dr. Cooper, who saw the old Grand Central hotel building constructed thirty years ago, to be exact, will now watch the tearing down of the ancient porch. Besides the steel awning which will be constructed on the Mariposa and J street sides of the building, there will be balconies opposite the doors on the second floor that now enter upon the porch. The building will also be given several coats of paint. Before the Grand Central was constructed, W. M. Williams had his blacksmith shop at J and Mariposa streets. Williams was the owner of the property when the hotel was built.

The tearing down of the porch around the old landmark brings to a close one of the chapters of the City Beautiful movement. Since the committee was organized, Judge Cooper has been urged to tear down the porch, resolutions were passed and he was threatened with legal action under one of the city ordinances.

But the decision of the owner to replace the porch with a modern awning has set at rest all threats of the City Beautiful committee. Everything is in readiness for the starting of the work, but it was decided by Mayor Harris of the hotel that it was best to wait until after fair week.

FRESNANS INVITED TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Big Automobile Parade
This Afternoon Will
Advertise Event

Over 100 boys will distribute circulars to 5,000 homes in Fresno today for the "Go to Church Sunday" which is to be observed here tomorrow. The invitations are strictly undenominational in nature. No mention is made of creed or belief and the aim is to have 10,000 in attendance at the Fresno Sunday schools in the morning.

The boys will meet at 9 o'clock under the direction of the various captains in the local churches and will be given their distribution in the districts assigned. The circular will announce "Go to Sunday School on September 27." The following questions and answers are given in the circular:

Which Sunday school? The school which is connected with the church of your choice or the church nearest you? Why? Because everyone should know more about the best-selling and acknowledged greatest book ever written, and the Sunday school is the only place that specializes on this book. Who's invited? Every man, woman and child from 1 to 100 years. When? Sunday morning at 9:30 a. m.

The committee in charge of the promotion aims to have a record attendance in the Sunday schools tomorrow and to have everyone attend, even if they never attend again.

Auto Parade
All plans for the union Sunday school automobile parade this afternoon have been completed, and indications point to a large turnout. Each church will get every available automobile and fill it with members. The machines are scheduled to gather near the Calvary Presbyterian church, N and Tulare streets, at 2:30 this afternoon, where a parade will be formed.

The line of march will include the business district and a large part of the residence section. All children are invited to take part, as well as anyone having an automobile.
